He showed outstanding leadership and was awarded as Best Team Leader among 41 teams. He adopted nearly 12 SOTA models, including his thesis model and eight medical datasets, developed a well functional software to achieve practice usage. During his work on Deecamp2020, he manifested keen interest and enthusiasm for ML medical application and Model interpretability. Following this training, he further continued with an AI Leading Tech. Internship under my supervision on Sinovation Venture.

I have been consistently impressed with his diligence, self-motivation, efficiency, and ability to get things done punctually. Mr. Qiang Li is responsible for conducting SOTA models' countermeasures on text data, especially OpenAI GPT-3 model, including model modification and Start-up launching surveys. Based on his work at Sinovation Venture and Deecamp2020, I strongly recommend Mr. Qiang Li for his PhD studies. He is organized, detail-oriented, and keeps learning; he would make an excellent addition to your team. I am at your disposal to provide more details.
